

Unicom can keep you in “business-as-usual” mode, protecting your work and enabling you to access files, communicate, and meet deadlines, no matter what’s happening in real life.

You rely on technology:

- ➔ to meet presentation, production, and delivery deadlines
- ➔ to keep customer service and logistics running smoothly
- ➔ to monitor news that could impact your markets and brands
- ➔ to run your entire business

For you to succeed in your markets, your computer, email, phone, and wireless systems have to stay up and running all the time - even in the event of a planned disruption like relocating or opening a new office, or an unplanned event, from a hiccup in your system, to a fire, natural disaster or public emergency.

Bottom line:

Bottom line: Neither you nor your customers can afford for you to be out of commission, for any reason. Unicom’s SafetyNet business continuity solution will keep you in business no matter what.

Unicom can keep you in “business-as-usual” mode, protecting your work and enabling you to access files, communicate, and meet deadlines, no matter what’s happening in real life. From office opening and relocation support, to business continuity planning for unforeseen interruptions, Unicom will help you:

- ➔ Keep your communication networks active and secure
- ➔ Protect your business data, documents, and intellectual property from loss and corruption
- ➔ Operate from alternate locations during disruptions
- ➔ Resume business as usual following a disruption
- ➔ Develop emergency preparedness plans, from technology to evacuation and communications