

Unicom can boost your productivity by making your documents and all their contents accessible, manageable, and sharable in a fraction of the time it takes now.

Technology can help you:

- ➔ get client, project, and company files into the hands of the people who need them at a moment's notice
- ➔ track revisions so everyone's working off of the right version of a document
- ➔ tailor past work for use in new ways, instead of reinventing the wheel, to meet new client needs
- ➔ upload content to digital media so everything is easily filed, searchable, and findable

Unicom's Digitization Solution:

The way you manage incoming documents, and create and file your own internally-generated documents can send your speed and productivity through the roof - all cost-effectively.

Unicom can boost your productivity by making your documents and all their contents accessible, manageable, and sharable in a fraction of the time it takes now.

Using its Digitization Solution, Unicom will turn all of your paper and electronic documents, correspondence and artwork into digital assets that are easily searchable, changed, tracked and transmitted, so you can respond to client needs and move projects forward with lightening speed.

Bottom line:

Get your hands on exactly what you need when you need it. Never waste time searching for a file that's missing, misfiled, or being used by someone else at the moment, or by working on the wrong version of creative. Wow clients with your ability to operate with unmatched speed and agility.
